Senior Class

The graduating class of June, 1936, has participated widely in the various activities of the school. In art, dramatics, in music and sports, it has made an impressive record. Not only in extra-curricular activities have the members of this class lived up to the past annals of East High, but also they have been outstanding in scholastic fields.

As its executives this class has chosen a truly representative group. Bob McLaughlin, president; Tommy Peterson, vice-president; Eileen Pratt, secretary; Orbin Hanks, treasurer; and Nedra McCall, Doris Strater, and Dan Wright, board members, have proved themselves worthy of the offices entrusted to them.

Their cooperation and efficiency have been highly instrumental in helping their class bring its years at East High School to a triumphant close.

Looking Ahead

Seen at the opening of Fuzz Kloster's night club—Tom Hanstrom the big butter and egg man of the mid-west (with other interests) Marion Ann Fenner the 'mad' scientist escorted by the men about town, Jack Nielson and Jack Todd, supersalesmen in over the week-end

James Stamas and Fileen Pratt billing on the cuff and cooing at a corner table Paul Sneddon, who has long since replaced the G man Edgar J. Hoover waltzing with his blond secretary, Ruth Illian Ben Witten, alone at a table for two Waitaminit—Verla Schwartz just crashed the party right through the plate glass window in her new Hudson Convertible Coupe, the envy of all her boy friends Dick Johnson and Paul Kaestner gigolos escorted by Edna and Elsie Plum AND WHATTA FLOOR SHOW WHEEEEEEEEEEE!!!!!!

Greeley Gays orchestra with Gene Ferris, featured singer playing and singing the newest swing tune 'Drop in and Droop' the night club's theme song Tilbe Perkins and Margaret Crawford doing an adagio.

Faces about Town —Nedra McCall social worker in the slums wiping kids' noses Fred Neiswander confining the smartest of The Des Moines 192 000 Johnnie Quinn that hot-headed Irish big leaguer just bought by the Demons Ruth Kyger anking down Grand Avenue with that Oh so attentive big business man Franklin Kerr

Clarabelle Wilkinson shaking rugs out of the window of that cute lil' apartment for two Violet Laven and Irma Hartman in their newly opened knitting shop Al Munsell favoring The Ames coeds with his presence (presents?)

Jack Goodside counting sheep George Frnk walking around with his eyes shut . . . Nedra McCall and Chandler Olson sitting on pedestals at 7th and Grand Audrey Forte carrying the weight of the world around on her shoulders.

The Lo Down —M.J. Hillestad, just out of college is writing an 'Advice to the Lovelorn' column . . . Thomas Peterson now announces The Ship of Youth radio program Charles Boston's famous paintings hang in museums all over the world

Russell Fleming graduated in Architecture from Ames is rebuilding the 7th St Viaduct Dorothy Jackson is giving bridge lessons to Jetrie Efaw Bob Waller won an international debating contest (just blowing off the mouth again) Doris Strater is teaching Kennie Gamblin, King George, to hoof

Kin you imagine? —George Bruner singing in the Metropolitan Opera with Bill Niles accompanying him on the violin Marv Olson teaching kindergarten Ellen Berner as an air hostess Lonnie Paulous saving souls Chester Tokheim running a grocery store June Brownlee as counselor to a Camp Fire group

Bill Castings teaching English June Clark as private secretary to Governor Herring Betty Hoopes as nurse to the Dionne quintuplets Edith Levitt as editor-in-chief of her college newspaper with Margaret Ralston associate editor Joe McGreevey running a fish market

Bob McLaughlin as a big business man Kathryn Gibson as star reporter on the Tribune . . . Marina Gamme.. as a photographer's model Evelyn Graves playing Juliet to John Gaskell's Romeo Marion DeBeck not week ending at Ames Margaret Gleason in New York trying to find the Empire State Building without her glasses

Allie Smith not getting a master's degree Hyman Booth writing a column like this Vernon Harris not knowing about radios Bob Houser not being intellectual (or something) Evelyn Walter as superintendent of nurses in a big hospital Delbert Solomon without that twinkle in his eye.

The end of a perfect day Orbin Hanks singing over the radio "Me and Marie by the Old Sea Side." See ya later

Cage Season

Oh boy, oh boy, what a season! Those of you who have followed the team are well aware of the fact that East High has battered its way to one of its most successful basketball seasons. Along with Roosevelt, finally able to tie our battling warriors, East is the co-wearer of the City Championship Basketball Crown. The team weathered the stormy schedule of sixteen games very well, suffering but five set-backs. However, the chance for a crack at the state championship slipped through our fingers when the Roughriders defeated us in the sectional tournament. This is a better record than an East High team has had for many years, and they are certainly deserving of the laurels that they have won.

Cinder Stars

Well, here's another year and another track team! But this year the East High stars of the cinder track are no ordinary group of athletes. East High can boast some of the most outstanding individual stars and several of the best relay teams in the state. In the first meet, the City Indoor, East High dethroned the Polar Bear Champions of '35. At the State Indoor Meet, East was second only to Clinton.

The following Saturday brought victory in the Valley Relays. The next Saturday the Oskaloosa Relays were captured by our flying warriors. As the Quill goes to press, news has just come in that our half-mile relay team made a new record for Des Moines schools at the Drake Relays. The way things are going now, it looks as if East High would carry off high honors in the remainder of its meets this season.
